The end user accepts the following conditions for using the Bernese GNSS Software (BSW)

- The use of the BSW is not restricted to pure research purposes and may include commercial activities.
- The BSW may be installed on any number of computers belonging to the licensee's institution (unlimited license) or on one computer (limited license).
- The licensee is not entitled to distribute or make accessible the BSW (or parts of it) to third parties.
- Warranty for bugfixing is limited to bugs reported to AIUB within 12 (twelve) months after the purchase of the BSW.
- The AIUB is not responsible for the proper functioning of the BSW on the licensee's computer(s).
- The AIUB is not responsible for the correctness of the results obtained by the end user with the BSW.
- AIUB excludes to the extent permitted by law any liability and is in particular not liable for any indirect damage such as missed income, loss of data, interruption of equipment/business etc.
- The integration of algorithms or modules of the BSW into third party software is not allowed.
- The end user may modify the source code of the BSW for his own purposes. In that case, AIUB cannot provide the full support anymore.
- The use of the BSW shall be referenced in all publications.
